

Food Oral Processing International Conference Special Issue

A special issue dedicated to the publication of research originating from the 6th International Conference on Food Oral Processing will be sponsored by the Journal of Texture Studies. The Journal invites all oral and poster presenters to submit manuscripts, either as a review, a research article, or a research note by 31st August 2021 for peer review. The issue is expected to be published April 2022.

Submission Guidelines for Authors

The following requirements are mandatory for all conference-related submissions:

- All papers must be submitted electronically via <http://mc.manuscriptcentral.com/jts>.
- Submissions must be received by the deadline stated above.
- Submissions must follow the Journal's Author Guidelines, which can be found at <https://onlinelibrary.wiley.com/page/journal/17454603/homepage/forauthors.html>

About the Journal of Texture Studies

The Journal of Texture Studies is a peer-reviewed international journal historically specialized in the texture and sensory perception of food and other consumer products. The journal was first published in 1969 and has been the primary source for disseminating advances in all sciences related to physical characterization and sensory perception of texture, in particular in areas such as food rheology and microstructure, tactile senses and texture perception, texture features and material attributes (composition, structure, and processing), food oral consumption, and studies associated with eating and sensory appreciation.